

Dr. Larry McKain is the founder and Executive Director of New Church Specialties, a non-profit coaching & consulting organization headquartered in Kansas City, Missouri. NCS currently has a part & full time staff of 52 and multiple offices across the United States. Its stated mission is “to assist the starting and strengthening of churches worldwide.”

Dr. McKain has written the curriculum for and launched a training and coaching system for church leaders called New Church University, which now has been translated into Spanish. In the past seven years, he has spoken to over 75,000 people and trained 4,100 church leaders at New Church University. Hundreds of churches have been planted through the influence of NCU, not only in the U.S. but now worldwide. NCS now provides coaching and training services in 12 countries. New Church Specialties has now served 23 different denominations.

Dr. McKain has an undergraduate double degree in business administration & religion from Mid-America Nazarene University, a masters from Nazarene Theological Seminary, and an earned doctorate from Fuller Seminary. Larry and his wife Denise, are the parents of two children, Sarah 25, & Wesley, 23. The McKains make their home in Kansas City, Missouri.